Volume 3 #4

Bulletin

CB To Fold!

The Visitor and Information Center publications staff recently surveyed regular "consumers" of ISD's recurrent publications (currently The Hoosier and the Campus Bulletin). Statistical results of the survey are still being tabulated; but, a broad consensus of opinion has already emerged. There is a documented desire for a newsletter that is more comprehensive in its scope, and includes students' work (photography, text, art, ??)

In order to accommodate these changes, our school newspaper will change from a weekly to a bi-weekly publication. This "re-tooling" will allow for photography and other high quality graphics to be included in the new, expanded format.

- The Calendar- (four weeks at a glance)
all educational departments, community events, newspaper, SDC events
- The Menu
two weeks (on one page)
- Opinion/Editorial
Superintendent's corner, Thought of the Week, Parental Perspective - periodic articles written by parents, Transition Corner, Articles by Deaf Adults
- Community News
PTCO, Regional/local news (including press clippings, E-mail), Legal Issues re: Deaf people, Department News, Deaf Community
- Letters to the Editor
Answers from appropriate persons (staff, parent, student, and administration)
- Creative Corner
Student work, themes, art, photography, etc. (submissions from wide variety of student body encouraged)
- Sports
narrative- journalism/honors class, boxed scores
- ISD History
- Staff Focus
Interviews with staff members
- Kudos
in praise of the praiseworthy
- Market Place
- Photography

Educational programs will still generate "department news," but will pass stories and art on to the bi-weekly publication and individual department newsletters will end. With this "newsy" format we hope to cover the whole school community in the spirit of the original school newspaper, The Silent Hoosier.

Since this new paper will be inclusive, and be a major production, it seemed natural to call it The Hoosier. The CB as we know it will therefore cease production. Additional information including a timeline for this exciting new endeavor will be published in next week's CB.

Transitions

New Beginnings

Ann Titus, Transition Consultant

Last year, many staff members attended the Transition Workshops. Over the summer I reviewed the summaries of the workshops and then wrote a paper that explains why we offered the training, the results of the workshop, and an evaluation. That report will be published by ISD and will be available through the Visitor and Information Center later this Fall.

While I was writing the paper, I realized how far we have come. We seem to be reaching new levels of understanding ourselves and our BIBI school. When doing some background research for the paper, I was struck by how similar our work at ISD is to the work of other minorities. African Americans, women, Native Americans, gay and lesbians and others have all followed a similar path of transition and empowerment as they seek equality. I was encouraged, inspired, and very proud to be a member of the ISD "team."

That leads me to my own personal transition. My husband, Jim, and I will be moving to Quincy, Illinois on September 17. Quincy is a town of about 40,000 people, 300 miles west of here, on the Mississippi River. My family, parents, brothers, cousins, everyone is in that area so I am "going home." Jim will be joining my father and brothers in the family business.

This change is very positive for us and we are looking forward to this new life. We are, however, finding it hard to "let go" of our Indiana roots. We will miss Broad Ripple with its interesting restaurants and shops. We will miss Purdue basketball. We will miss the dear, dear friends that bring so much joy into our lives.

I find it especially hard to let go of my friends/colleagues here at the school.

It's funny how my professional life is now influencing my personal life. I learned so many things from all of you: how to trust myself and others, how to communicate openly and clearly, how to dream and to make those dreams come true. Now I have the opportunity of applying those skills to my family relations. Thank you for teaching me so much.

I don't know what kind of work that I will be doing in Quincy. That part of my life is in the "Neutral Zone" right now. I am anxious but willing to wait and get settled in our new home and then see what possibilities are there for me. Who knows??? Besides, a few weeks ago, I drove past the house we are buying and two people were walking down the street, signing. Imagine, there may be Deaf people in my neighborhood!

Regardless, letting go of ISD only means I will not physically be here. I carry ISD with me in my heart and no distance will change that. I hope to visit often and to stay in touch. Please keep up the hard work and be happy!

Recycling Old Cars

The National Kidney Foundation of Indiana will recycle unwanted vehicles - cars, trucks, vans motorcycles, recreational vehicles and boats, regardless of condition. They offer towing at no cost to the donor. All vehicles are auctioned with proceeds used for kidney patient programs and services. Donations are tax deductible at the vehicle's fair market value. To make a donation, or for more information, call 693-6534 or (800) 382-0071.

Superintendent's Chandelier

Have you noticed the crystal chandelier in Alumni Hall? It was originally in the Indiana Deaf School Superintendent's Residence on our campus. When the house was razed in the early 1970's, some interior fixtures were salvaged. This chandelier has been stored in the school's maintenance department since the demolition of the Superintendent's Residence.

In need of refurbishing, with many broken and missing parts, the chandelier was sent to specialists in Ohio to be restored. The refurbished chandelier glistens as an important part of the Indiana Deaf School's history that has been recovered.

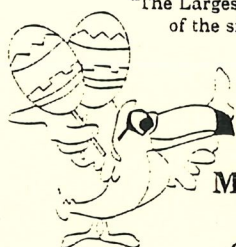

This chandelier was placed in Alumni Hall during ISD's sesquicentennial year and dedicated to our first and current superintendents, Mr. William Willard and Mr. Eddy Laird.

Choate Named DCC rep to SAC

The DCC (Deaf Concerns Council) has selected Jeffrey Choate as the representative for the SAC (Staff Advisory Council) this year. DCC founding president Bob Canty and the entire council say "Congratulations, Jeff!"

Casting Call

The Conner Prairie Museum in Fishers is looking for a Deaf person to perform in the Prairietown Village. The historical part (circa 1835) was written for a Caucasian male. Until recently, this part was played by Tony Parks who has moved out of state.

If you are interested, please see volunteer (and recent retiree) Elizabeth Foster in the ISD library on Wednesdays or contact Stephen Cox, Conner Prairie's historian, or Robert Gerling, Director of Education at 776-6000.

Thanks

Kudos and a hand clap to Danny Cooper for helping Bill Coffey by removing a wood screw that had punctured his tire. Danny is always willing to help! Many Thanks!

ISD Authors

A recent publication of Gallaudet University Press features two ISD staff members as contributing editors. Parallel View, Education and Access for Deaf People in France and the United States includes "Pre-school and Early Intervention in the United States," by Rachel Stone. It also includes "The Spirit of BiBi: Two Languages and Two Cultures." This book will soon be a part of the ISD library collection.

SDC K - 5 Soccer Program Needs:

Players — Volunteers — Coaches

YES! The SDC Soccer Program is alive and well, but some important changes will be implemented this season. The program will be intramural, and will not involve outside teams. Games and practices will be held on ISD's football field (a level playing field and lights!)

Plans call for eight teams divided into two age groups. The league will play "Futsal" rule soccer, on a smaller (1/4) field with five players per side. Practices are scheduled to start on September 12. Practices are to be held Mondays and Wednesdays, with the first game slated for Thursday, September 29. Subsequent games will be Wednesdays from 6 - 8 pm through the end of the season (the last week of October).

Registrations are now being accepted. Siblings of ISD students and children of staff members are invited to join-in too. The $10 fee includes a team jersey and team photo.

Program coordinator Scott Smith needs coaches and volunteers to make this ambitious undertaking a success. Please contact Scott at (317) 924-8411 TTY (after 1 pm).

Library Notes

Welcome back to another year of good reading! Many new titles concerning multiculturalism have been recently added to the collection from the State Library grant and are now on display in the Alumni Hall and K-5 libraries. Come and browse anytime. We appreciate the generous donations of the State Library year after year. Lists of these titles in addition to other new titles have been sent to all teachers. Please contact Linda Canty, Coordinator of Library Services for a copy.

ISD Libraries welcome Jerry Cooper to the "fold." He is now in charge of the K-5 library and computer laboratory, replacing Liz Foster who retired last spring. We wish him success.

Alumni Hall library has finally completed its formal inventory of all books and shelf-list cards which was begun two years ago for retrospective conversion. The documented cards will be shortly shipped out to Bro-Dart Company where they will be converted to a computer database on CD-ROM. Thirteen staff members from the Student Life Department were hired to assist in this project the last two summers. We are excited about the progress we are making now and hopefully the library collection will be fully automated by next year, pending the approval of funding from the Indianapolis Foundation.

As a result of the inventory, hundreds of books have been discarded for not being read for years and/or being damaged and are now in a special place in the Alumni Hall library. They can be used for reading in the classroom and/or cutting up for the picture files. However, these are state property and must remain on campus. The State Library will pick up these books in a month or two, so hurry in and take as many as you want for your classrooms.

A new Checkpoint detection system was installed in Alumni Hall library in June to protect our expensive collection and improve library service for all students and staff. It was discovered during the inventory that hundreds of books (worth thousands of dollars) were missing from the shelves. We regret if this system causes you any inconvenience, but in view of today's economy, the cost of books and materials has escalated and is often difficult to replace the lost books and materials which may not be in print any more. This system detects the unauthorized removal of library books and materials and reminds the patrons to check-out materials properly before leaving the library. It is safe and as harmless as the radio you listen to each day.. All persons entering the library are expected to exit through the Checkpoint system upon leaving the library (east side of the library). This will minimize finance loss due to theft and carelessness and funds will be spent to improve the collection rather than replace it.

Your cooperation in following the procedures and rules of the system will be very much appreciated. Please remember the system was installed to benefit everyone. If you have any questions regarding the system, please contact Linda Canty, Librarian.
